6 The control of public conveyances in Mysore C and the same maybe said of Bangalore I so rather glass But I doubt if the present proposal will make for any improvement The best arrangement would be to give the Police a more broad subject in the regulation of conveyances and enforcing conditions of the licenses Whatever the Police staff in the licensing Office in the City Hall and a similar arrangement was in force for some hours in the B city also, I believe can you kindly find out whether the latter is correct and if so, what are the duties of the Police Officer in charge

12 The Mal Council did not assign reasons for this change and the resolution was approved by the Govt

Instead of the Municipality obtaining the services of a Sub Inspector and constables, it may entrust the duties of registering petition conveyances to the Asst Supt of the city Police. Such an arrangement was in force in Bangalore city and it is not known why it was discontinued. If this is tentatively approved, the Resident & IG P will be consulted about it

16 I have since discussed the matter with the Resident, Lyps ne City Municipality.

I agree that his proposal to borrow the services of certain officers during the period may be approved. I am not in favour of repeating the Bangalore experiment of entrusting the work to the OSI as it places the officers under hard masters

For the Hackney Carriages supervision in the City man of personality, discipline, and active habits is necessary and more than these qualifications, he should have pride and enthusiasm in his work and should be able to inspire fear in the minds of the Hackney carriage owners and drivers

From what I have seen in the present Hackeny Carriage Inspector during the past one year he has none of the qualifications required for his post nor has he willingness to work Consequently the state of the Hackney carriages and animals in the City is in a condition unworthy for a capital City like Mysore

I would therefore request to transfer him to any other Daperment of the Municipality and appoint a capable official in his place so that some improvement may be effected during the current year

In case there is no proper man available in the Municipality I would suggest to take loan of the services of a young Police Sub-Inspector and 2 Police Constables The present staff may be absorbed in the other departments of the Municipality The proposed cost would be about Rs 85/- against the present cost of Rs 32-8-0 a month
